

AUDACIOUS ANARCHISTS.

They Attack a Spanish Town Garrisoned by Troops.

A STUBBORN FIGHT THE RESULT.

Pillage and Murder the Intention of the Bloodthirsty Mob.

The Rioters Overpowered by the Police Officers and Placed Under Arrest.

Associated Press Dispatches.

MADRID, Jan. 15.—Last night a band of anarchists from the country surrounding Xeres made an attack on that place intending to pillage the town. The gendarmes, however, got wind of the affair, and the anarchists were surprised to find a strong force awaiting them. The anarchists were armed with fowling pieces, and, though the plan of pillage was frustrated, they determined to punish the police for thwarting their designs. They made a desperate attack on the gendarmes of the town and a stubborn fight resulted. The gendarmes finally charged upon and repulsed the enemy. The latter returned, however, and the firing continued until early this morning. The military authorities today took a hand in the affair. They dispatched a force of cavalry in pursuit of the anarchists, who fled precipitately. The cavalry pursued them in every direction and succeeded in capturing the majority. The prisoners will be arraigned before a court-martial, and punishment will follow swift upon conviction. The attack was commenced just as the people were leaving the theaters, and was directed principally toward that quarter in which the prisoners are held. The intention being to liberate the prisoners. The troops repulsed the rioters, a number of scattered bands which created disturbances in other parts of the city.

After a stubborn resistance by the anarchists, three of them were killed and twenty more or less seriously wounded. An innocent spectator was killed during the fight, by an anarchist. Armed with a scythe this rioter with thirty companions was placed under arrest. A cabinet councillor today ordered the authorities to deal with the rioters with the utmost vigor. The audacity displayed in attacking a city in which a battalion of infantry and a regiment of cavalry were quartered is regarded as alarming and inexplicable. La Epoca, in speaking of the affair, says that the rioters made no great difference between the military barracks and the town hall. The paper also says that the rioters were repulsed without a single soldier being wounded.

MAY WAS PICKLE.

The Professor Was Not, However, and Now There is Scandal.

CRESTON, IOWA, Jan. 15.—A petition was filed in the district court yesterday unprecedented in the records of the court. Professor C. B. Stait is the plaintiff.

He was supposed to be a widower. Among the communicants of the Methodist church of which he was a conspicuous member, was Miss May Bixon, a teacher in the Creston schools.

She was seen occasionally with Professor Stait on the streets, but the disparity in their ages was so great that the professor was regarded by the public merely as a sort of fellow teacher.

One day in October, 1888, he thoughtlessly made the remark to May that he would never ask another woman to become his wife.

It happened to be leap year, and a short time afterward the professor was astonished to receive a letter from Miss Bixon proposing marriage.

Not until June, 1890, did he accept the proposal, when both decided that the marriage ceremony was unnecessary and agreed to secretly live as man and wife.

The professor kept his part of the contract, but May after a year and four months left the professor.

The professor, who is a man of property and the father of two children, is now suing May for breach of contract, and whether he is really married according to law.

WILL FIGHT.

Ascension Still in the Hands of the Revolutionists.

St. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—A special dispatch from Deming says that no courier has arrived there from Ascension, Mex., up to a late hour last night, but one is expected today. The latest information from Ascension is to the effect that the town is still in possession of the revolutionists. Everything is quiet, but what the result will be when the troops from Chihuahua arrive it is impossible to determine. The insurgents are well armed, under good discipline, strong in numbers, and will not submit without a battle. The troops number only one hundred men, and they will be fagged out from their five days' forced march. The Mexican government is making every effort to suppress the news of the trouble.

THE HURRICANE.

It is General in Nebraska Kansas and Oklahoma.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 15.—Dispatches from various points in Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma state that severe snow storms prevailed there today, causing much delay in the running of trains. The Texas express of the Santa Fe is bulletined indefinitely late. All trains from the south on the Missouri Pacific were delayed from one to three hours. A dispatch from Guthrie says the storm will cause much suffering among the new settlers, who for the most part are ill clad, badly sheltered and insufficiently provisioned. A dispatch from Arkansas City, Kan., says that "boomers" waiting along the border of the Cherokee strip for the opening of that coveted land are suffering from the same cause.

McKenna's Chances.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Judge Spencer's chances to secure the United States circuit judgeship have diminished somewhat during the last few days. Considerable opposition to him has developed and the result is now in doubt. McKenna is in no sense a candidate for this appointment, but the president entertains a high opinion of his ability and it is said that if he finds that he will be unable to appoint Spencer, the honor might fall upon McKenna.

SHE FELL AMONG WOLVES.

A Bold and Disreputable House Releases an Immigrant Girl.

New York, Jan. 15.—Annie Hotchkiss went to Ellis Island yesterday to seek medical treatment. On being examined it was found that she was suffering from measles. She was sent to North Brothers Island.

Annie arrived here about three months ago. In looking for a position as domestic she lured in a house in Pitt street and was kept there against her will for three weeks, her clothes being held so that she could not escape. Detective Trolin, in his search for missing immigrant girls, came across the young woman in a raid that was made. The girl claims that she tried to gain entrance in a number of hospitals in this city and was refused.

A Terrible Crime in Ohio.

OXFORD, Ohio, Jan. 15.—A wealthy lady named Horner was criminally assaulted and murdered by a negro named Henry Corbin. At the same time the negro fatally injured her daughter Lizzie, who sought to protect her mother. Parties of resolute and determined men are out in a blinding snowstorm hunting for Corbin, and if captured he will be hanged to the nearest tree. Mrs. Horner was a lady of wealth and moved in the best society circles.

A FIGHT LIKELY.

A MONTANA SHERIFF AFTER AN INDIAN OFFENDER.

Indications that a Massacre May Occur at Any Moment—The Trouble Near Fort Keogh.

Associated Press Dispatches.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—A special from St. Paul says: Dispatches from Miles City and Fort Keogh, Mont., indicate that a massacre will be attempted in that vicinity within the next twenty-four hours by the Cheyenne Indians. The seat of trouble is twelve miles south of Fort Keogh. A stockman accused a Cheyenne Indian of killing cattle belonging to a citizen and requested his arrest. The Indian police refused to make the arrest, because the Cheyenne acted in a threatening manner. The stockman then appealed to the civil authorities, and the sheriff of Carter county declares that he will make the arrest if it takes the whole population in a posse. The rods are awaiting an attack, which will likely be made tomorrow.

THEIR TWENTY-SECOND CHILD.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Jan. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Riley Yates, colored people, respectively living on Grand Avenue, on last Sunday morning had born to them their twenty-second child, a little girl. She died shortly after her birth. Mr. and Mrs. Yates are from Old Virginia and came from a strong, healthy stock. The mother was Mary C. Freese. She is now 45 years old and Mr. Yates is 59. They were married early in life, the mother being yet in her teens. Mr. Yates is a drayman by trade and a sturdy man. Of the twenty-two children born to them, the unlucky number of thirteen yet survive. The youngest, Effie, is a little toddler of two years. There were fifteen boys and seven girls.

New Mexican Coal Mining.

SANTA FE, Jan. 15.—Cerrillos Coal and Railroad company, capital stock $2,500,000, has filed a charter with the secretary of state. The charter calls for building seventy-six miles of railroad line in this county, starting at Cerrillos, the line of Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and radiating south and west through the coal and mineral fields to San Pedro. This road will open one of the richest mining regions in the west.

British Seamen Desert.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The British sloop of war Daphne left here for Esquimaut this morning short of eight men. Four men ashore on liberty failed to return to the vessel. Sergeant Turner and McKinn and Larcomb, two other marines, escaped from the vessel this morning in a boat from the shore. Seaman Russell started to swim ashore and has not since been seen. It is believed he was drowned.

Baiter Buys Forepaugh's Show.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—James A. Bailey, proprietor of the Barum and Bailey shows, today purchased from Catherine Cooper Adams Forepaugh's show. Bailey immediately transferred a half interest in the purchase to Joseph T. McCadden, who has been manager of his shows since Cooper purchased them from the Forepaugh estate two years ago. The amount involved in these transactions is not known.

Great Flood Damage at Seattle.

MADRID, Jan. 15.—A dispatch from Seattle states that the business of that part of the city bordering upon the Guadalupe river is brought to a standstill by a sudden rise in the river. So great is the quantity of debris brought down by the river that the port is practically closed to shipping. The loss is very heavy and much farther damage will result unless the water recedes.

Rain Makers in Future County.

PITTSBURGH, Cal., Jan. 15.—A party of rain makers arrived last night and will make experiments. The weather is now dry and cold. This place is surrounded by nearly 100,000 acres of land which is being put in wheat, and an assurance of rain would mean a great deal to the farmers.

Democratic Conference.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—There was an informal conference of a number of Democratic members of the Ways and Means committee, but beyond very general interchange of views nothing was done.

WANTS TO BE SENATOR.

Mills a Candidate for a Seat in the Senate.

MR. MILLS SAYS SO HIMSELF.

And That Ought to Settle the Matter Beyond Doubt.

Expresses His Views Upon the Silver Question to an Associated Press Reporter.

Associated Press Dispatches.

CORSCIANA, Tex., Jan. 15.—In an interview today Roger G. Mills was asked: "Will you be a candidate for the senate before the called session of the legislature?"

He replied: "I will if there should be a called session."

Questioned as to his free coinage of silver, Mills said: "I have already voted for it, but do not believe it would in the slightest manner relieve the financial distress of the country. If we persist in legislating that question, demanding it in our national convention, we will lose in the fall election all our eastern states and gain none in the west. Therefore I advise a postponement of further agitation of the subject until the tariff is reduced. On the tariff issue we have won the country and can hold it."

MORE ABOUT YIESER.

Something Concerning the Youthful Fenman Back in Colorado.

SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN.

SAGACHE, Colo., Jan. 15.—Phil D. Yieser, the young man arrested in Phoenix and taken to San Bernardino, Cal., where he is accused of forgery, is well known here having been employed by Water Referee, Judge L. C. Charles as stenographer during the summer of 1884. While here he led a reckless life and was guilty of many misdemeanors of minor importance. He attempted to defraud his many creditors by stealing away on the morning stage, but was overhauled by G. W. Redmond, proprietor of the New Grand Hotel, and compelled to reimburse. After defrauding parties for a small amount in various parts of the state, he left for Oregon early in 1888, since which time he has not been heard of until now.

REFUSED TO MARRY HER.

A Former Husband Sued for Breach of Promise.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 15.—Last spring George A. Borkeling sued for a divorce from Madeline G., his wife, but she filed a cross-complaint against him, decree with $1500 alimony, besides the return of her maiden name of Boyle. Today she brought suit against her former husband, claiming $5000 damages for breach of promise. It appears that after their divorce Mr. Borkeling again paid court to her, and there was a betrothal. The marriage was appointed for July last, but on the 25th of the month Borkeling served notice that he had changed his mind, nor would he assign any reason.

The Mormon Squeal.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 15.—A gang of counterfeiters which flooded the city with spurious $5 and $10 and $20 pieces during the holidays was arraigned before United States Commissioner Greenman yesterday. All entered a plea of "not guilty." Mary Gignon, wife of the king-pin counterfeit, took the stand and "squealed" on "de gang." She implicated her husband, Jesse Gignon, Wm. Gibson, Wm. Cronk, P. D. Sprague and Mark King. The men were bound over to wait the grand jury in the sum of $5000 each, on default of which they were taken to the penitentiary. The gang had its headquarters on the block between Third and Fourth streets, and made $1500 counterfeit coins. They were making preparations to visit Denver, Kansas City, Omaha and other eastern cities when arrested here by the authorities. The design and weight of the gold coin made. The ring of the gold coin made one of the most successful attempts at counterfeiting ever perpetrated.

Gave a Church the Money.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 15.—One of the biggest sensations North Carolina has had in years is the case of John C. Oakes. He was born at Okeana, but when she was an infant her parents separated and surrendered her for adoption to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheppard, who were related to the child. Thursday evening she threw on her bonnet and a thin veil and remarked to her adopted mother that she would make a short call on a school companion. She has not been seen since, but a note was found in her room saying she had gone south as companion to a rich lady. Her friends, however, fear that she has been led away for evil purposes.

Married People Elope.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 15.—The elopement of a married man and a married woman in Calhoun county Saturday almost ended in a murder of an atrocious nature. Abe Garretson fired his father's house when the old gentleman was on his deathbed, and then deserted his wife and children. He stole two of his father's horses and eloped with Mrs. Marion Boyce, who left two young children to the care of her husband. Garretson was rescued from his burning house with great difficulty.

Tait's Successor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A Washington special to the Post says: The president has decided to appoint John H. Baker, of Indiana, to succeed William H. Tait as solicitor general.

Maryland's New Governor.

ANAPOLIS, Jan. 15.—Gov. Brown was inaugurated in the presence of the general assembly. His address related mainly to matters of state.

A Sensational Trial Ended.

PAOLI, Ind., Jan. 15.—The case of the State vs. Clark Brown, charging him with the embezzlement of a $200 county order, the property of ex-Treasurer Field, has been on trial in the Orange Circuit Court for the past six days. Intense interest has been manifested, the court room being crowded at each session. The regular panel, two special venire, one of twenty-five and one of twenty names were exhausted in securing a jury. A great mass of evidence was introduced, throwing much light on the shortage of Field, the ex-Treasurer of the county. The jury took the case at five o'clock, and at 7 returned a verdict for defendant. Brown is now receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Criminals Sentenced.

TAYLOR, Tex., Jan. 15. In the district court at Georgetown today Walton Womack, a young man of Taylor, pleaded guilty to burglary, and got six years in the penitentiary. He robbed the safe of Earthman & Olive, at this place, a short time ago, of $800, and last spring robbed a member of the Rockdale Rifles of $40 and a gold watch while the company was here in attendance upon the fair. Womack was formerly a leader of Taylor society. Jim Taylor, a negro, of this place, also got twenty-two years for shooting and attempting to take the life of a young son of Herman Lanzsch for the purpose of robbery on December 3 last. There is still another charge against him. At this term of court will be called the case of Charlie Hutto, charged with perjury before the grand jury in a gambling case, as will also the case of the state vs. Rabe Barker, charged with beating and attempting to rob Postmaster John Goetz at Coupland, near here, last February.

Secured $1300.

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Jan. 15.—Robbers secured $1300 worth of bullion from the Florence and Globe stage last week. They had not been captured when the pursuers were heard from but Indian trailers are still after them.

A MINER CRUSHED.

THEROOF OF A NATURAL CAVE FELL ON HIM.

An Unfortunate Man Buried Without Warning by the Falling Earth and Rocks.

Associated Press Dispatches.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Jan. 15.—Another mine accident happened near this city this afternoon, which was attended with fatal results. Fred Leaning, an employee of the Minnie mine, had been engaged during the day timbering a drift. A few days ago this same drift had opened into a natural cave into formation about fifteen feet in diameter. About three o'clock this afternoon Leaning placed a charge of powder in the wall of the drift for the purpose of putting in a set of timbers, and after spitting the fire, ran to the cave to wait for the explosion, which soon came, and jarred the ground in every direction. The roof of the cave was loosened without warning, completely burying the unfortunate man and crushing his breast and lungs. He was extricated and taken to his home near by, but sank rapidly until 10 o'clock tonight when death ended his sufferings. The remains were brought to the morgue in this city.

ANOTHER MILL AT QUIJOTOA.

Twenty Stamps are Located at the Papago Chief Group.

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 15.—Another mill at Quijotoa is probable. It will be of twenty stamps, and situated at the Papago Chief group. The money is now available for it and it goes up, and will be erected to be convenient to the several properties of the group, at the Great Eastern mine. Here water is obtainable at a depth of 150 feet. Prominent among the Papago Chief group, one from which will be worked at the mill, is the Central mine. The vein has increased in width in common with the others near, as depth was attained. It is now nearly five feet deep, and four feet wide. At the surface the width is nine inches. Drifting in two directions is in progress. On the dump the gold can be seen glistening throughout it. Some eighty tons have been removed thus far. The "Central" ore will average $6 to $70 a ton, and much of it will reach $150 a ton. Three locations are situated upon it. The stockholders in the mine are mostly in San Francisco.

A Girl's Mysterious Disappearance.

ORISKANY, N. Y., Jan. 15.—The mysterious disappearance of Nellie Brown, a pretty 15-year-old school girl, is exciting intense interest throughout Otsego county. She was born at Otsego, but when she was an infant her parents separated and surrendered her for adoption to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sheppard, who were related to the child. Thursday evening she threw on her bonnet and a thin veil and remarked to her adopted mother that she would make a short call on a school companion. WHY HE IS NOT HAPPY.

Judge Osborn, of Tucson, Has a Hacking for Something.

Among the delegates to the territorial convention of the I. O. G. T. is Judge Osborn, of Tucson, who has a grievance that makes him displeased with his present surroundings.

The judge is 56 years of age, and he has held some high positions connected with the politics of the territory, and stands high as a respected and beloved citizen of the territory. Besides being a good lawyer he is an eloquent speaker, and does not have to take a seat in the corner when it comes to debate. Despite all these marks of character and distinction he is not satisfied, and grieves. He feels sore away down to the soles of his boots, and he hankers after something. That something is a release from the political bondage that has been his ever since he fell heir to the privileges of the ballot box. In all the years he has been voting he has not saved the country to a presidential issue. He has continuously lived in territories, having been a resident of Kansas before it was a state, leaving there to emigrate to Utah and from Utah to Arizona. The judge will not die happy unless he is given a chance to vote for a president.

FAITH IN ARIZONA.

What Editor Wilson of the Sherman, Tex. Courier Thinks.

Dr. H. A. Hughes announced in the Arizona Gazette last week that he had sold that paper to Hon. Sam Webb, and this week the announcement was made that Webb & Dunbar would conduct the Gazette in the future. It will be remembered that Dr. Hughes was a leading physician of this Grayson, county some few years ago, being located at Collinsville, but removed from Texas to Arizona some five years ago, where he is now the county physician and has made a brilliant record in his profession as well as made money—being able to own the leading democratic daily paper of Arizona for recreation. The writer was with the Gazette for eight months this year, and wishes for the paper the great success that is bound to come to it with the development and outcome of Arizona. We believe Arizona has as big an outcome as California had before her days of booms.—Sherman Courier.

A WIDOW IN THE CASE.

Powell's Reason for His Friends for Going to San Francisco.

At a late hour Monday night, E. E. Powell, the young man who has been sentenced to four years in the penitentiary, was today taken to Salem, Ill., on a writ of habeas corpus, to testify against Mike Kennedy, who was implicated in the crime. Both men were indicted for this offense in 1889, but Kennedy was not captured until recently.

Gets Four Years.

DENVER, Jan. 15.—A special to the Republican from Leadville, says: J. J. Walsh, who shot and killed James Lappin on December 19, was today sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. He was convicted of manslaughter.

SHE WAS REALLY DEAD.

A Young Man Endeavors to Restore Life to a Corpse.

A MOST DRAMATIC INCIDENT.

Occurs at a Funeral in a Fashionable Boston Church.

Physicians Called, But All Agree that the Girl is Dead—The Burial Permitted.

Associated Press Dispatches.

Boston, Jan. 15.—One of the most dramatic incidents which have recently occurred at a funeral in this city was ended today by the burial of the body of Miss Josephine Matthews, a 22-year-old maid who died Thursday morning.

Preparations for the funeral were made, and relatives were gathered yesterday in a fashionable Presbyterian church in the center of the city. The minister had pronounced the last words and the undertaker was about to remove the casket to the waiting hearse, when Daniel K. McLeod, a friend of the dead girl, declared that she was alive, and for the burial to be postponed.

An exciting argument, which lasted an hour and a half, was ended by the body being taken to McLeod's house instead of to the cemetery, and he spent the night in futile efforts to revive her.

Physicians were called, but they agreed with the minister that she was dead. McLeod lighted a huge fire in the room with the corpse and used every effort in his power to restore the girl to life, but this morning faith forsook him, and he confessed he had been wrong, and permitted the burial.

Model servants and mischievous children can be found only in the Noss Jollities' comedy, "A Quick Match."
